Russian Garrisons Near Korea Increased, Defense Chief Says

SECRETARY IS AGAIN BEFORE PROBE GROUP

BULLETIN
Washington, May 14—(P)—Secretary of Defense Marshall said today the administration's military teams—including Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway—support without a break President Truman's plan for a limited Korean war. Marshall told the senate armed services committee he knows of no military leader who would adopt instead the proposals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for carrying the fighting to the Red Chinese. The cabinet member gave these views in his seventh day of testimony on the conduct of MacArthur as Pacific commander. Previously, he had told the senators that Russia has made "sizeable increases" since last December in her military forces near the Korean border.

Washington, May 14—(P)—Secretary Marshall testified today that Russia has made "sizeable increases" in its military garrisons near Korea since last December.

Marshall told senators that while the Soviets always have maintained strong forces on their Siberian borders, there has been a recent buildup in strength.

He had mentioned this in testimony last week but his reference to December pin-pointed the time of the build up as he had not done before.

Under questioning, Marshall also insisted that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's plan of stepped up air and sea fighting would not defeat Red China in Korea.

For the seventh day, the defense secretary was before the senate armed services and foreign relations committees which are inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern Command.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations group, asked Marshall whether "our air power and navy could win a war against Red China and keep them from making an invasion of Korea?"

"Formosa, you mean?" Marshall asked.

"No," Connally replied. "I mean keep them from coming over here as they are now. Could our navy and air alone, without any ground troops?"

"I do not think they could, sir," Marshall replied.

MacArthur has testified that only a few more ground troops would be needed in Korea to win a victory there if American bombers were permitted to raid Red (Turn to Page Eight)

Republican Dominated Senate Rallies for an All-Out Effort To Pass Flat Income Tax Bill

Harrisburg, May 14—(P)—The Republican dominated state senate, its supremacy shaky, rallied today for an all-out effort to pass the proposed $119,000,000 flat income tax.

The bill is in position for debate late today and for a final vote tomorrow.

The crucial issue—hottest of the 1951 general assembly—confronted lawmakers as they returned to the capitol for another week of activity.

Senate Republican leaders called a party caucus before the upper chamber was to convene in the late afternoon to assess GOP unity on the tax issue.

Pointing up the closeness of the tax bill lineup, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (Dauphin) who is also Republican state chairman, appeared in the senate chamber, walking with the aid of a cane, to attend the GOP caucus later in the day.

Taylor, president pro tempore of the senate, broke a knee and a wrist in a fall outside his capitol office on May 1 and has since been absent from sessions of the senate.

Taylor declined comment on the tax situation. So did Chairman T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) of the Senate Finance committee.

The controversial levy, object of weeks of legislative wrangling, will go before the senate for a final vote tomorrow if the Republican leadership decides it has sufficient strength to push it through.

But the matter of strength remained a big question mark within Republican ranks. Five of the 30 GOP senators have voiced opposition to Gov. Pine's proposal to levy a one-half of one per cent flat income tax in Pennsylvania.

Several others were reported undecided on the question.

Should five Republican senators vote against the tax, along with the 20 senate Democrats, the bill will fail, since 26 votes, or one over half of the senate membership is required to pass a bill.

Senate Democrats meanwhile expressed confidence that the house-passed bill will be defeated.

The rest of the governor's tax program is also on the senate agenda. It includes making permanent the four-cent cigarette tax, the half cent a pint beer tax and the 10 per cent liquor tax.

Portions of these tax rates have been on a temporary basis and must be re-enacted every two years.

Elsewhere on the legislative front, Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lancaster) predicted today that new legislation to increase truck weight limits in Pennsylvania will win passage.

The senate may receive another piece of controversial legislation this week—a congressional reapportionment bill.

U. N. GROUP VOTES BAN ON AID TO CHINA

United Nations, N. Y., May 14—(P)—The United Nations sanctions committee today voted a worldwide ban on shipments of war goods to Communist China.

The vote was 11 to nothing, with Egypt abstaining.

The sanctions group, formerly known as the additional measures committee, is a 14-nation body set up to consider punishment of Red China for her intervention in Korea.

The committee's vote is only the first step toward imposition of the worldwide embargo.

Following this, the ban must be debated by the political committee of the general assembly, and then by the assembly in plenary session.

The Soviet bloc is expected to fight it in both forums to the last ditch. India, leader of the neutralist group in the U. N., is also expected to oppose the embargo as endangering any chance of peace negotiations with Peking.

All signs point to eventual assembly acceptance, however, and the U. S. hopes adoption will be by an overwhelming majority.

British and French opposition to the move, based on the fear that it might enlarge the area of conflict, evaporated last week.

Former sources said conservative protests in the British house of commons about rubber shipments to Red China plus much adverse U. S. comment helped change London's mind.

Britain announced last Thursday that it was cutting off further rubber shipments from Malaya to areas controlled by Peking.

Pushing of punitive measures against the Chinese Reds indicates the extreme pessimism with which the U. N. regards the possibility of a negotiated peace in Korea.

MRS. JIMMY STEWART IS STILL CRITICAL

Hollywood, May 14—(P)—Mrs. Jimmy Stewart, who underwent surgery three times in less than a week, is improved today but is still seriously ill.

The 32-year-old wife of the actor gave birth to twin girls last Monday by caesarean section. An intestinal obstruction which bore no relation to the births was found and she had a minor operation Friday.

Saturday night, Mrs. Stewart, the former Gloria Hatrick McLean, underwent major surgery for the intestinal trouble and was in critical condition. She was given several blood transfusions.

Consumer Price Slashing Unlikely As Result of New Retail Ceilings on Beef

By The Associated Press
Retail price ceilings go into effect on beef today—but don't count on general price-slashing at your butcher shop.

Some of the new beef prices will be higher, some lower, some unchanged.

Many stores have found the new government ceilings permit advances on several items from prices they were charging last week.

Where competitive conditions permit, most of these retailers are expected to take advantage of this. They say they're entitled to a little relief after being squeezed in recent weeks as costs went up while their own selling prices were frozen.

A spokesman for a leading supermarket chain in the east said the ceiling prices in general allowed boosts for the more expensive cuts, like porterhouse and sirloin steaks. But the ceilings either held the prevailing price line or required reductions on "the poor man's meats" like hamburger and stewing beef.

Imposition of the retail ceilings today is the third major step in a series of actions ordered by government price stabilizers and designed to reduce prices about 10 cents a pound by October.

Earlier, packers and slaughterers were ordered to start grading their beef according to federal standards, if they weren't already, and to set up a sales records system for use in the event meat must be allocated later. And last week, dollars and cents ceilings went into effect. Coming later: Rollbacks in packers and slaughterers' buying prices for livestock, and in the wholesale and retail ceiling schedules.

Intersection at Pleasantville Is Scene of Accident

Joyce Swanson of 2214 Hampton Road, Erie, suffered a fractured left leg in a two-car accident shortly before noon yesterday at the junction of Routes 27 and 227 at the southern approach at Pleasantville.

Three other persons were admitted to the Titusville Hospital and two others were given emergency treatment and sent home. Mrs. Martha Bess of Allegany, N. Y., had lacerations to the hands and face and was suffering from shock when brought to the hospital.

Floyd Bess of Bradford had chest injuries and was suffering from shock. Albert G. Bess of Allegany, N. Y., suffered lacerations to the face and the knees and undetermined chest injuries.

The two other passengers in the two cars were given emergency treatment and discharged. They were James Banks of 451 West Eighth street, Erie, who had injuries to the right elbow and abrasions, and Mrs. Edna Cole of Bradford with lacerations to face and arms.

Lull Continues On Western And Central Fronts as Allies Brace For New Enemy Thrust

Tokyo, May 14—(P)—Chinese Red troops today expanded a threatening bridgehead across the Choyang river on the central Korean front despite the pounding of American guns.

These forces northeast of Chunchon may spearhead a second spring offensive by the 500,000-man Red army, expected in about ten days.

Elsewhere along the 100-mile front United Nations patrols probed no-man's-land with little opposition. However, two sharp clashes broke out on the western front.

One American task force ran into a Chinese ambush and pulled back after a determined battle. The second prolonged fight began when an armored American outfit ambushed a Chinese patrol.

For the first time in the war U. N. forces are getting a small but steady trickle of Chinese deserters, AP correspondent John Randolph reported from this front. The deserters, often showing up with surrender leaflets, include some officers.

The Reds appeared to be avoiding strong contact while rushing fresh troops into buildup areas on the west and central fronts.

Bad weather screened their movements Monday.

Allied pilots hunting through the rain clouds reported Reds steadily filtering southward. The 5th Air Force said the pilot was killed.

Airmen reported more than two divisions, roughly 15,000 men, were concentrating north of Chunchon. The other main buildup was on the west central sector, north and northeast of Seoul.

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander, inspected front line positions in that sector Monday. He found his men quietly confident they could stop the Communist offensive when it comes.

An 8th Army spokesman said the Reds could strike again any time they wanted. The consensus was that they would in about ten days.

A new air field was discovered at Pyong, 25 miles northeast of Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital. (Turn to Page Eight)

SERVICE FOR DEAF IN LOS ANGELES CHURCH

Los Angeles, May 14—(P)—The choir sang, the congregation joined with an amen and the pastor preached but not a sound was heard in the new church.

Thus was the Los Angeles Baptist church for the deaf dedicated yesterday.

The choir of three men and two women "sang" in sign language. The congregation silently spoke "amen" with their hands. And the Rev. Noble A. Hower preached with his hands.

PITTSBURGH'S RED LEADER IN CRASH

Philadelphia, May 14—(P)—Steve Nelson, Pittsburgh Communist leader, remains in fair condition today after being hospitalized with two of his three children following an automobile accident.

The 48-year-old Nelson and his daughter, Mrs. Eileen Roland, 22, also of Pittsburgh, were seriously injured Saturday when their car hit a tree on East River drive along the Schuylkill River in a rainstorm. Two younger children, Robert, 8, and Josephine, 11, suffered cuts and bruises.

Nelson, on trial in Allegheny county court charged with sedition, is free on bond. He set out for Philadelphia to seek funds and to interview witnesses in connection with his trial.

Centennial of First Through Train From Seaboard to Great Lakes Is Celebrated

New York, May 14—(P)—Colorful middle 19th century railroad came to life briefly again today in southern New York state.

The Erie Railroad marked the centennial of the first through train to run from the Atlantic seaboard to the Great Lakes.

To reenact the journey of 100 years ago, it sent out a special train combining equipment of the 1851 era with such modern units as radio-equipped diesel-electric locomotive and streamlined lounge cars.

Special ceremonies were arranged for stops at Suffern, Middletown, Port Jervis and Deposit, N. Y., Susquehanna, Pa., and Binghamton and Elmira, N. Y.

Tomorrow the train carrying 150 guests of the Erie will visit Corning, Hornell, Wellsville, Olean and Salamanca, N. Y., before ending its run at Dunkirk, western terminus of the original line.

Riding the inaugural train on May 14, 1851, were Millard Fillmore, president of the United States; Daniel Webster, his secretary of state, and other cabinet members.

Because the charter of the New York and Erie Railroad called for its construction entirely within New York state, the original tracks started at Piermont, on the west bank of the Hudson river 26 miles from New York City Hall, and just north of the New Jersey border.

President Fillmore and others traveled by steamship up the Hudson from New York to board the train.

Similarly today, a steamer was called into service to carry the official party of President Paul W. Johnston of the Erie, railroad officials, business and industrial leaders and newspaper representatives to Piermont, now the end of an Erie branch line.

The re-enactment train followed, as closely as practicable, the schedule of the 1851 run.

Pilot Flying Coast-to-Coast in Piper Cub Reported Nearing LaGuardia Field

Cleveland, May 14—(P)—Max Conrad reported today he was running low on gasoline but still has a "fighting chance" of completing his coast-to-coast non-stop flight in a Piper Cub.

Reporting by radio to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, he added, "I'll know for sure in another hour."

"I'm not so sure I can make it (to New York), but I have a fighting chance, he said over Cleveland at 10 a. m. (EST)."

CAA listeners said he was cruising at 10,000 feet and expected to end the trip from Los Angeles within three and a half hours—if the fuel holds out.

CAA officials estimated that by the time Conrad reached Brookville, Pa., northeast of Pittsburgh, he should be able to determine if he can reach New York.

In New York, the CAA at LaGuardia field said Conrad passed over Youngstown, Ohio, at 10:30 a. m. (EST) and was due over Philadelphia, at 12:40 p. m. (EST).

If Conrad reaches his LaGuardia field goal he'll be the first person to fly across the nation non-stop in such a tiny craft.

The flying father took off yesterday—on Mother's Day—from Los Angeles International Airport. The time was 2:35 p. m. (EST).

He had hopes of making the flight in 24 hours. The wing and cabin tanks were loaded with gasoline and the plane required 3,500 feet of runway to take off.

Last year Conrad, a former Notre Dame University track athlete, flew across the Atlantic to Rome in the same plane he's using on the present flight.

Most Promising Gorilla Romance Ends In Fatal Tumble Into Bronx Zoo Moat

New York, May 14—(P)—America's most promising gorilla romance has been ended abruptly.

Makoko, 14-year-old great ape, took a fatal tumble into a Bronx Zoo moat yesterday on the eve of his transplanted jungle honeymoon.

A daring rescue attempt by a keeper of birds, who plunged in after the popular 440-pound gorilla, came minutes too late.

Great apes cannot swim, and Makoko thrashed about wildly. His panic apparently prevented him from finding two horizontal cables put below the surface of the water for just such an emergency.

Makoko's 12-year-old, 335-pound neighbor and fiancée, Oka, did not see the tragedy.

Zoo officials said Makoko always had been timid about venturing near the moat, probably from fear of both spectators and water.

But yesterday he ventured right up to the edge.

Then, in sudden fright, he leaped for the high brick wall between his pen and Oka's. He lost his grip and slipped into the moat.

The bird keeper, George Scott, hauled Makoko out of the water after 10 minutes with the aid of six other keepers.

Police emergency squads joined the keepers in giving Makoko artificial respiration. They used eight tanks of oxygen in a two-hour effort to revive him.

Arrest of Drunken Driver Highlights City Police Activities Over Weekend

City police activities over the weekend were highlighted by the arrest of a drunken driver and the investigation of several automobile accidents, only one of which was of a nature to require a report.

C. J. Martin, of Bradford, was arrested at Water and Pennsylvania about one a. m. Saturday and charged by police with drunken driving. When arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund, Martin entered a plea of innocent, waived a hearing, and posted bail for his appearance at quarter sessions court.

Another drunk, from West Virginia, was found yesterday afternoon asleep in his car on Pennsylvania avenue, west. He was not driving but was locked up on a drunk charge and will be arraigned this morning.

Saturday, shortly after noon, cars operated by William Taylor, 215 Parker street, and Stanley Owens, Warren Rd 3, collided at Madison and Schanz streets with about $500 damage resulting.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor sustained bruises and abrasions of the legs, and Owens a bump on the head. None were hospitalized.

According to the police report, Taylor was driving north on Schanz street and Owens west on Madison. Taylor told police he stopped before entering Madison avenue to make a left turn. Owens claimed that Taylor did not stop and that he was not able to stop quickly enough to avoid the collision.

Taylor's car was damaged to an estimated $200; and Owens about $300.

At 11:30 p. m. Friday, police investigated a minor accident at Madison and Irvine streets by Taylor and Owens.

Determined Bid by Governor Warren For Presidential Nomination Looms

Tulsa, Okla., May 14—(P)—Aernor's name got frequent mention in lobby talk as a possible presidential candidate.

In previous years, Warren has shied away from any active drive for the nomination. He wound up in 1948 on the vice presidential end of a ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey has taken himself out of the presidential bidding and announced his support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who apparently would become a candidate only if he were offered one of the major party nominations in a "draft" move.

Warren has been conspicuously silent on his choice for the top spot in 1952. Some of his friends say this is because the Californian may have decided that next year is the time for him to go after the prize in an all-out drive.

May 23 to be Circus Day For Warren

Billers Bros. Circus three-ring wild animal exhibition, America's largest show committed to the field of automotive transportation of all paraphernalia, is coming to Warren on Wed., May 23rd at the old Brewery circus grounds for two performances at 3:15 and 8:00 p. m.

The big show's number one advertising car arrived in town with a dozen billposters, lithographers and bannermen aboard who immediately started putting up the gaily-colored posters of caged lions, clowns, elephants, horses, acrobats and ferocious and snarling beasts of the jungle.

Under the supervision of Boss Billposter Stephen Kucmick, surrounding territory within a radius of 25 miles began to take on the "Spirit of Circus Day."

As Steve phrases it, "On Christmas you trim a tree, don't you? His logic continues, "So on circus day I get, instead of Christmas fever, another kind of holiday spirit, "Circus Day Fever," and so I trim towns and highways instead of trees and, as far as that goes, I might trim a tree or two by tacking a nice pretty circus poster on it."

The second and third trucks which use the number one car as a base for supplies and orders from the general agent, will arrive later to continue the work. Workers will also see that no other shows with a mean eye toward Billers Bros. exhibition date, covers up their legally contracted billboard space.

Among the stars and performers gathered under the big top of this, America's most modern, beautiful and streamlined circus, you will see acts and displays, gathered with the utmost care for your entertainment, latest European wild animal subjugating stylings; Mario and Josephine Ivanov, acrobatic wire-walking artists supreme; Teresa Morales, netless sensationalist of the flying trapeze; Ricci and Enriqueta, masters of mis-direction, jugglers of formal repute; the great Cristiani Troupe, World's most wonderful somersaulting bareback riders and whirlwind acrobatic tumbler.

Motor Club Board Planning Annual Safety Patrol Picnic

At the May meeting of the board of governors of the Warren County Motor Club held in the private dining room of the Blue & White restaurant, it was unanimously decided that the present directors be continued for another term, and that the July and August meetings will be dispensed with, in keeping with a custom established some years ago.

Reading of monthly reports revealed that the present membership, is 1706 as compared to 1486 the first of May a year ago.

A communication from the State Highway Department replying to an inquiry regarding the prospects of improving the highway from Kinzua to Corydon, stated that this project is not on the list for attention due to lack of funds.

A report was received on the hearing which resulted in the P. U. C. order directing the installation of flasher lights at the P. R. R. crossing on the south side.

It was unanimously decided that the club will sponsor a picnic for the School Safety Patrols of the borough and county this summer. The date and details to be worked out by a committee composed of P. C. Ostergard, George Seavy, Donald Schuler and F. J. Haggerty, along with the officers of the club.

It was voted to have Mrs. Mary Mac Corah, executive secretary, represent the club at the conference of secretaries and managers at Pocono, June 11 and 12.

A report was received on a meeting held at Youngsville when plans were discussed for launching the safe driving program in schools at that place, Tidoute and Sugar Grove.

New Pool Record Set in Swimming Meet at the YM

A new pool record for the 100-yard freestyle was set Friday night at the Warren YMCA pool when the Warren Y Juniors defeated the Bradford tankmen, 35 to 19, in an inter-city meet. A large crowd of swimming fans was on hand to watch the match.

The new pool record was credited to Ronnie Wood, of the Warren team, who won the 100-yard freestyle in the blistering time of 53.4 seconds. Don Dinsmoor, another greatly improved Warren squad member, also made a fine showing by scoring points in three events.

Reading Readiness Tests to be Given Kindergarten Tots

Reporting to principals at their monthly meeting, Dr. Carl E. Whipple, superintendent of borough schools, told them reading readiness tests for children in kindergarten classes will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Dr. Whipple also called the principals' attention to the fact that because of the need for metal the U. S. Treasury Department has made an appeal that coins be returned to banks for circulation. He suggested that teachers ask the pupils to use their coins for banking in their savings accounts.

Pupil promotion and those cases that make pupil retardation seem advisable were another matter under advisement, so that the assignment of each pupil to a grade that will serve his best interests may be made. Anecdotal records to give teachers and counselors information valuable in helping pupils to make better adjustments to school and to living and kept on file until the student has been graduated were discussed.

Routine matters relating to the business of the closing of the school year were outlined. In order to give kindergarten teachers a chance to store all supplies in such a manner that they will be readily accessible next fall, kindergarten pupils will not be in school Wednesday and Thursday, June 6 and 7.

TRUCK BILL
Senate Bill No. 615

For nearly a quarter of a century Pennsylvania has limited (maximum) gross vehicle weights to 62,000 pounds. However, the wording of the law encourages use of the sprawling, unwieldy truck and full trailer and fails to recognize the efficient, more compact, more maneuverable tandem axle semi-trailer. Senate Bill No. 615 would encourage use of the modern, efficient tandem-

6 REASONS WHY IT SHOULD PASS:

1. It holds the line on Pennsylvania's 20,000-pound axle load. Axle load weight-on-highway at a given point. It is limited by law to avoid excessive wear and tear on the road. The new law would keep the same axle-load limit that has been in force for years—a limit that is on a par with, or under, the axle-load limits of other states in the industrial northeast.
2. It takes the profit out of overloading. The present law FINES THE DRIVER $25 or $50 on an overload . . . and that's all! The new bill TAKES THE OWNER'S PROFIT with a $100 flat fine PLUS $2 for each 100 pounds of excess load above the five percent allowance for error, and IMPOSES HIS TRUCK if he doesn't pay the fine, holds it until he does. That takes the profit out of overloading.
3. It advances highway safety by RE-QUIRING trucks to have adequate brakes. Whereas the present law makes no attempt to control truck brake sizes, the new bill would REQUIRE at least one square inch of brake surface for every 55 pounds of gross load. Most trucks have better brakes than this . . . but the new law forces the laggards to come up to standard!
4. It promises fewer truck-caused tie-ups on hills. Two things cause traffic tie-ups on hills: one is out-of-date highways, inadequate for today's traffic, and the other is slow trucks. The new truck bill tackles this problem for the first time by REQUIRING all trucks to be capable of REASONABLE SPEED, instead of a snail's pace, up hills.
5. It makes trucks bear a greater share of highway costs. An increase in truck LICENSE FEES is one of the main features of the new truck bill. This means that through the increased cost of license plates, TRUCKS WOULD CONTRIBUTE EVEN MORE than they have in the past to the expense of constructing and maintaining Pennsylvania's highways. (Truck taxes paid 187% of the highway maintenance costs in Pennsylvania in 1949!)
6. It means more jobs for Pennsylvania industry. Our present out-dated truck law compels a Pennsylvania manufacturer to use four trucks to carry the same load his out-of-state competitor can carry on three! The new law gives the home-state producer—farmer, manufacturer or merchant—a better chance at the profits that BUILD BUSI-NESS AND JOBS IN PENNSYLVANIA. And at the same time, conserves equipment vital to the national defense.

DOES the Bill Provide . . .
HEAVIER AXLE LOAD? . . . NO!
LONGER TRUCKS? . . . NO!
WIDER TRUCKS? . . . NO!
HIGHER TRUCKS? . . . NO!

Ceiling Price of Area Crude Fixed At Present Quota

According to a special dispatch from Washington, D. C., in the Bradford Era, the ceiling price on both Bradford and Allegheny District crude oil has been fixed at the present price of $4.25 a barrel in line with specific ceiling price regulations placed on crude petroleum by the Office of Price Stabilization. The regulation became effective Friday midnight.

Ceiling Price Regulation 32 pegs crude ceilings for each pool at the highest posted price of Jan. 25, 1951.

In its ceiling price order affecting crude oil, OPS stipulated that the maximum price at the receiving tank for each oil pool be the highest posted purchase price in effect on Jan. 25.

The regulation does not provide for any method for automatic increases in the price of crude and it does not offer any formula to obtain an increase.

The regulation has ordered every purchaser of crude oil to file within 30 days with OPS, reports listing his posted prices and the prices that he paid during the base period of Dec. 9 to Jan. 25 last.

EXAMINING MACARTHUR VIEWS

Before General MacArthur took the witness chair in Washington, the wider aspects of the controversy surrounding his dismissal were sometimes being referred to as the "Europe v. Asia" debate.

The inference was that MacArthur represented a policy which would put Asia first as a theater of combat against Russian communism, while the Administration stood for "Europe first."

But, according to an editorial written by Bruce Blossat for NEA Service, Inc., detailed examination of the general's testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee puts a totally different light on his attitude.

MacArthur is for combatting the Reds in all theaters, simultaneously if necessary. To those who argue that free nations cannot thus divide their strength, he replies that the Communists must likewise divide theirs to contest on more than one front. If they can do it, why not we?

If MacArthur gives any priority at all to Asia, it is simply because fighting is now in progress there, while Europe is still theoretically at peace. But he stated emphatically that he does not believe the defense of Europe should be neglected in any way.

There is plainly no comfort in MacArthur's views for those who feel that Europe should be left largely to its own devices. Nor is there solace for the believers in a sort of "fortress America" which would retire within its own outposts and rely on sea and air power to fend off a hostile world.

That MacArthur should have, in this current controversy, attracted the backing of many long-confirmed isolationists is ironic. For his testimony proves that he is at the very opposite pole. He is for stepping in wherever the Communists threaten free men.

While he has great faith in American sea power and air strength and wants to see them more fully employed right now against Red China, he does not argue that they alone can be the saviors of freedom. To him, ground, sea and air forces are an inseparable team and he thinks it silly to consider them any other way. Here again, his words offer no pleasure to men who contend America can defend itself—and help defend its allies—without a large, well-trained land army.

MacArthur does not believe we are now prepared to fight a war on many fronts. But he is confident we have the potential, and should not therefore flinch from facing communism down at all points.

By his testimony on this broad problem, the general made clear that the issue is how to fight the war in Korea to produce the military victory he believes must be won to justify our fighting.

When the answering testimony of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is all in, then the time will have arrived to weigh that issue with the utmost care and perception. Meantime, it is enough to observe that the general's differences with the Administration are on a much narrower front than was first imagined by many.

MISGUIDED ECONOMY

The president's budget called for $403,000,000 to put some life into the nation's still sagging civil defense program.

The House sliced that figure to $186,750,000. The Senate Appropriations Committee is proposing $84,000,000.

In congressional circles, this is known as economy. In civil defense circles, it is known as playing with fire. Perhaps the uncontrolled fire in the aftermath of an atomic bomb.

Good time to suggest that the matter of arranging for floral tributes to be placed on graves of loved ones for the Memorial Day period not be delayed until you find yourself in conflict with the last-minute rush.

But one more week remains in which to secure signatures to those nomination petitions, with plenty of them still in circulation.

Here And There

This 'N That: Richard Tranter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tranter, 8 Cottage Place, assumes ownership of the Larimer Grocery store in Venturatown today; Dick, native of Warren, and veteran of World War II, for the past several years has been employed by the G. C. Murphy Company in Syracuse and Tonawanda, N. Y., plans to reside here with Mrs. Tranter and their son Butch, as soon as they can locate a home; he has plans for a formal opening of the store in the near future. . . . Speaking of the 'Venturatown' store old timers will recall that it was started back around 1920 or before, by the late Tom Quinn, and before Larimer purchased it 14 years ago it had been closed for some time; incidentally Larimer says he expects to devote much of his time in the future with the Irvine Norton mill near Akeley, which turns out bullets for baseball bats for the McGlaughlin & Millard, Dodgeville, N. Y., factory which manufactures 2,000,000 bats a year; the Norton mill expects to deliver at least 750,000 billets this year.

Monday Roundup: Complaints are being received about the condition of Pennsylvania Railroad crossings, especially the one in Pennsylvania avenue west near the depot, and the other on Main avenue leading to the Pleasant township road. . . . About 300 youngsters from McKean county followed Hopalong Cassidy down Constitution avenue, Washington, Saturday in the annual spring School Safety Patrol parade. . . . Mrs. Edith Dawson, Mrs. Mary Wooster, Mrs. Hopace Crandall and Mrs. Hazel Smith, superintendent of Warren General Hospital, were in Corry Friday afternoon inspecting the new hospital costing $740,000, dedicated there Saturday afternoon as a memorial to the war dead of that city; it is on U. S. Highway No. 6 and contains 4,140 square feet of floor space for administrative purposes and 6,800 square feet for hospital work. . . . On Sunday, Mrs. Smith accompanied by Miss Hammer, supervisor of nurses, inspected the new Bradford road $1,800,000 hospital, officially opened with appropriate ceremonies Saturday afternoon, which were attended by R. P. Eaton, president of the Warren General board of directors. . . . Alois Adamczyk, member of the Polish government in exile, scheduled to speak at the meeting of the Lions club Tuesday, will address a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at Kane this evening. . . . Birthday greetings to W. H. Houghtling, who is 93 today, also Dr. C. H. Ver-Milyea, Russell, J. A. Johnson, local clothier, his two interesting twin grandchildren, who are six, and to Arch Bristow, the "sage of Garland", who manages to keep his age a secret. . . . DiSalle Sorry as Aide Goes— But He Gives Him His Hat

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Inside story of the banal between ex-Gov. M. E. Thompson of Georgia and Price Stabilization Director Michael DiSalle has Washington gossip chattering. Governor Thompson resigned in a huff from his $33-a-day price consultant's job, with a blast at DiSalle because he had given the Georgian nothing to do. And Governor Thompson said he refused to be a parasite.

Other side of the story is that the governor had about driven the director nuts.

Every night for weeks, while Mike was working at his office, Thompson would call him up and complain about the way he was being treated.

"Governor, have you had a drink tonight?" he would be asked.

"If governor would allow that he had, and would be advised to come in in the morning and talk it over."

Next morning, Thompson would come to DiSalle's office and say that everything was fine. DiSalle would explain that the job he had for him was to organize cooperation between OPS and state governments. But other more pressing problems needed first attention and the local compliance program wasn't ready to go. Thompson would shake hands and go away satisfied.

When Governor Thompson finally decided to quit, DiSalle told one of his aides, "I'm sorry to see him go, but don't let anyone stand in his way. He'd have been better off if I'd never met him."

The previously predicted May attack of Communist satellite forces on Yugoslavia having failed to materialize, Balkan experts now point towards Oct. 1 as the next likely date. That would come after harvests are in but before cold weather. How attack might come is matter of much discussion by military strategists. A pincers attack—from the north through Hungary, from the south through Greece—is considered possible. Greeks are ready and almost anxious to fight, if their soil is again invaded. Should an attack come, Greece and Yugoslavia might be expected to move against Albania, wipe it out and carve it up. They can see no use for its existence and the two countries could be expected to claim whatever part each could conquer and hold before the other got to it.

DEPARTMENT of Defense got caught in a box when it announced intention to hire 450,000 more civilians. This would bring armed services civilian employment up to 1,600,000, or about one civilian for every two and a fraction uniformed personnel. Economy-minded Sen. Harry F. Byrd immediately jumped on the proposal, and Department of Defense wasn't ready with its explanation, which it is now hastily trying to put together.

Reason for big civilian employment is said to be in operation of government arsenals and gun factories. Air Force has relatively few Civil Service employees because its planes are built by private industry. Army and Navy, however, operate a number of factories and shipyards where civilian government employees predominate. Last January, for instance, Army's Bureau of Ordnance had 114,000 employees—about the size of the ground force.

Civil Service employment in arsenals and shore stations goes down in peace time, rises in emergencies. Department of Defense fell down in not having figures readily available on how many civilians it expected to employ where, for immediate presentation to Congress. Only way this employment could be cut drastically would be to turn all arms, ammunition and ship manufacture and repair over to private industry.

High School Choristers Are Preparing Fine Program for Thursday Concert

When the a cappella choir of Warren High School begins its spring concert in Beaty Junior High School gym at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, the singers will repeat by popular request two numbers from previous concerts, "Hosodil Pomilul" and "My God and I."

They will also include in this first group "O Lord Most Holy," with solo by Phyllis Ristau and Ronald Snyder as accompanist; and "Holy, Holy, Holy," with Aner Carlstrom as baritone soloist and Carol Barrett at the piano.

Coral Tome, accompanied by Stavroula Fanos, will sing two contralto solos, "Comin' Thru the Rye," a Scotch folk tune, and "The Days of Spring."

Johan Sten will play accompaniment for the choir in its "Rain and the River" and will direct the group as it sings "Under Southern Skies." These numbers will be followed by two tenor solos, "If I Could Tell You" and "I Love Life," sung by James Cooney, with Carol Amacher as accompanist.

After a short intermission, the high school orchestra will join 10 members of the choir in "The Scrambled Opera" by Don Wilson. The five guards will be played by Aner Carlstrom, Richard Confer, Jeremy Fisher, Roger Rue and Richard Smith. Sally Irvine, Beverly Taft and Coral Tome will form a hillybully trio; Phyllis Ristau will play the part of Madelena, and James Cooney will be the Duke.

When the choir returns for the final number, 12 seniors will receive their choir pins from Carroll A. Fowler, director.

Tschakovsky's "Nutteracker Suite," as arranged by Harry Smeone of the Fred Waring organization, will be accompanied at the piano by Carol Barrett to conclude the program.

MOTHERS CLUB

First Baptist Mothers Club members held their regular meeting at the church, with Elaine Snyder conducting a brief business session and introducing newly-elected officers of the group.

Why Shouldn't Housewife Glow At Solving Difficult Problem?

A READER writes to tell how she solved a problem similar to one that another reader feels is hopeless. She ends her letter with these words: "I hope you won't think that this is bragging. It's just a solution to my problem."

Why shouldn't a housewife who solves a difficult family problem feel proud of herself? Why shouldn't she get a glow of pleasure for a job well done? Why shouldn't she give herself a pat on the back? The trouble with many housewives today is not that they think too highly of themselves, but that they are too self-critical and too easily discouraged.

They are told so often of their mistakes and given so little credit for all that they do manage to do, they fall easily into the habit of self-doubt and self-criticism.

A REFRESHING LETTER

THAT is so evident in the letters that come my way that it is refreshing to get a letter from a housewife who says stoutly about another woman's problem: "She can handle that situation. I know because I was faced with a similar problem—and here is how I worked it out."

No housewife needs to apologize for that kind of pride in a job well done. Most housewives need more of it. They need it in place of what so often substitutes for self-confidence—feeling sorry for themselves for all their problems that they have never done anything about solving.

In order to be happy, human beings have to be proud of themselves. They have to give themselves credit for what they accomplish. But if there is any one group less inclined to feel proud of its accomplishments than any other group it is certainly the housewives.

Legion Auxiliary Emphasizing 1951 Membership Plans

Chief Complanter Unit 135, American Legion Auxiliary, has planned a full schedule for May and June, one which will include special programs and projects to focus attention on the vast service activities of the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary provides a place where women of war service families can work effectively to aid the national effort and to care for those who have defended America, their widows and their children. With wounded servicemen again coming back from overseas, the need for the Auxiliary's rehabilitation activities is increasing.

The unit president, Mrs. Hazel Patchen, reminds all members who have not paid their 1951 dues to be prepared for a visit from Mrs. John Dahler and her committee, who will call in the next few days in the interest of membership. All eligible women are extended an urgent invitation to become members of the unit, where useful and interesting things are done in support of the Legion's great program for the freedom and security of the country.

Warren delegates who attended the Inter-county Council meeting held in St. Marys were Mrs. Nicholas Andersen, Mrs. Hazel Patchen, Mrs. Milton Witz, Mrs. Florine Larsen, Mrs. Ella Mauk, Mrs. Marvin Wilkins, Mrs. Mary Rowland, Mrs. LeRoy Meeder and Mrs. Ralph A'Harrish.

Mrs. Nicholas Andersen, unit secretary, presented a detailed report of council proceedings at the regular meeting of the unit, calling attention to the fact that the department president, Mrs. Jean McKay, and the western vice president, Miss Frances Hannon, were guest speakers. She announced, also, the June meeting of Council will be held in Warren.

On May 9, Mrs. Witz, Mrs. Charles Cannon, Mrs. Patchen, Mrs. Clara Driscoll and Mrs. A'Harrish attended a luncheon at the Hotel Shenley in Pittsburgh, when the national president, Mrs. Hope Read, and the department president were guests of honor. Mrs. Howard Casey is hostess chairman in the unit for the current month.

ELSIE ROSS CIRCLE
Elsie Ross Circle members of Grace Methodist church will meet at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday in the wing room, with devotion by Miss Francis and study, "Panorama of the Near East," by Miss Kyler. A social hour will follow, with Mrs. Baird and committee serving. These meetings are open to all interested in mission study.

ANNIVERSARY OF TORPEDO COUPLE

On May 17, 1951, Archie and Pearl Stanford Brown, of Torpedo, will be observing a golden wedding anniversary, and on May 20, their family will hold open house, afternoon and evening, at the family home in celebration of the occasion. Mr. Brown is a retired farmer and has been tax collector in Eldred township for 45 years.

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN INSTALLATION

At the May meeting of Washington-Lincoln PTA, officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Jane Buchanan, president; Mrs. Alice Bean, vice president; Mrs. Georgia Nezmick, secretary; Mrs. Glenn Kifer, treasurer; Archie Hunter, third vice president. An interesting talk, with colored slides, on her trip to Alaska was given by Mrs. Joseph DeFrees and a musical program in charge of Harry Summers was presented with Geraldine McGill, piano; Kaye Miller, cello; and Karen Kinney, violin. Refreshments were served by the committee.

TIDIOUTE WCTU

Tidoute WCTU members held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Westley Carnahan, with devotion in charge of Mrs. Ida Byrnes; Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence and Mrs. Helen Schwab leading the study on "Visual Education—Radio and Television."

Judges were appointed for the poster and essay contest in the schools; plans were made for a rummage sale in the near future to raise state and national crusade funds. Concluding, refreshments were served by Mrs. Hugh Webster, Mrs. Charles Crayton, Mrs. Mathilda Brocklehurst and their committee.

SPAGHETTI SUPPER

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Pleasant Township Firemen is planning another of its delicious spaghetti suppers at the Pleasant Grange hall Tuesday, serving to be from five until eight. The public is cordially invited, the occasion providing a fine opportunity to enjoy a good supper and get away from kitchen drudgery.

LACY SCHOOL PTA

A springtime program is planned for the Lacy PTA meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. Several skits will be given by members of the unit and refreshments will be in charge of sixth grade mothers. A large turnout is hoped for at this final meeting.

Delegates to DAR Convention Report On Its Highlights

General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in its May meeting at the YWCA activities building, elected unanimously Miss Florence Shawkey, first vice regent, and Mrs. Frank P. Kirwin, chaplain for a two-year term.

In opening the session, Mrs. W. G. Cable, regent, stated the objectives of the organization and Mrs. Jessie Girling, chaplain, offered prayer. Chapter members gave the Pledge to the Flag and the American Creed. Monthly reports were given and communications read.

For the musical portion of the program, three high school girls delighted with their singing of "One World," "Green Cathedral" and "Mighty Like a Rose." The singers, accompanied by Arlene Rydgren, were Beverly Taft, Kay Hutchens and Coral Tome.

Climax of the afternoon were the most interesting reports of Mrs. Carleton Gay and Miss Florence Shawkey, delegates to the DAR's 60th continental congress sessions in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Gay had made a large scrapbook of pictures and newspaper articles of the important events, which proved very effective in bringing messages and inspiration to the chapter. The Warren delegates reported they had the great privilege of seeing and hearing General Douglas MacArthur and his wife, and were impressed with his sincerity, love and loyalty to his country.

The following were elected delegates and alternates to the DAR convention at Harrisburg in October: Mrs. G. W. Olmsted, Mrs. F. S. Richards, Mrs. O. H. Baird, Mrs. William Fuellhart, Mrs. F. E. Redding, Miss Ethel DeForest, Mrs. R. L. Mead, Miss Florence Shawkey, Mrs. C. L. Thompson, Mrs. Carleton Gay, delegates; Mrs. Harry Granquist, Mrs. Sidney Blackman, Mrs. F. E. Wendelboe, Mrs. D. C. Armstrong, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, Mrs. A. F. Dunham, Mrs. F. P. Kirwin, Miss Harriette Rogers, Miss Laura DeForest, Mrs. G. M. Ostergard, alternates.

Tea was served by Mrs. R. L. Mead and her assistants. The inviting tea table was centered with spring flowers and pink candles, with Mrs. R. W. Ledebur and Mrs. Mead presiding.

Heard on the Party Line

Arrival of Dr. Clyde B. Stuntz to speak on his missionary experiences in Pakistan at First Methodist church Sunday was the signal for a happy reunion with Warren relatives whom he had never seen. Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, reading the announcements about Dr. Stuntz, recognized it as a family name and called upon the visitor. They soon found they were first cousins and enjoyed a pleasant visit at the Campbell home following the church service.

Mother's Day for Mrs. M. G. Klinefister, 113 Pioneer street, was made a happy one with a call from her daughter, Mrs. Charles Knupp, in Japan. Randy Knupp, who will soon be three, also talked to his grandmother from across the seas. Another call for Mrs. Klinefister brought greetings from her niece, Ruth Klinefister, who formerly lived with her aunt here and is now a student nurse in Philadelphia.

Maura Ann Cooney, manager of the beauty salon at the Metzger-Wright store, spoke today to high school home economics classes taught by Marie Weissenhuf. Miss Cooney, graduate of the Orra Jean Beauty Academy in Erie, included in her demonstrations such items as correct hair styles, proper ways of applying make-up, and care of the skin.

Jamestown Civic Symphony, in its Tuesday night concert, will be featuring a Buffalo pianist in Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," and will be playing, also, the Mendelssohn Italian Symphony. Jan Walonak will be conducting and Warren players appearing will be Mrs. Robert Sandbladt, Mrs. Frederick Olson, Arthur Briggs, Jr., and William Yeager, Jr.

District Volunteer Firemen Confer At Youngsville

About 60 were present for the dinner-meeting of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's Association, held at the Youngsville American Legion Home Saturday evening, with the Legion Auxiliary serving the dinner.

Presiding at the meeting was Phillip McDonald, of Sharon, president of the group. Clifford Gill, of Mercer, is secretary.

Two new members, North Warren and Clarendon departments, joined the Northwestern Association during the meeting.

The annual convention, which will be held in Youngsville on August 9, 10, and 11, was the principal business to come before the group. Three delegates and three alternates will be present from each member company.

Registration for the convention was set for one p. m. on Thursday, August 9, and the big parade, which is a feature of each convention, will be held on Saturday, August 11, at 2:30 p. m. sharp.

It is expected that this will be the longest parade ever seen in Youngsville, with about 75 to 80 fire companies taking part with equipment, marching units, auxiliaries and bands. The line of march has not yet been decided upon.

Also, during the convention time, it is expected that Eastman Shows will be on Island Park.

CHECKING ENTRIES—Harry Halburton (center), nationally known rabbit breeder from Bainbridge, N. Y., checks over the entries in the New Zealand Whites division of the annual Warren County Rabbit Breeders Show held over the weekend at Island Park, Youngsville. Band members announce they have purchased a clockenspiel to add to the band and are most appreciative of the efforts of all who helped in any way to make the benefit a success.

A Number One Club members held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Root, with nine members present to enjoy the five o'clock tureen dinner. Mrs. Gerry Briggs will be hostess for the next meeting.

Barbara Thompson and Dorothy Bland of Jamestown spent the weekend at Ft. Dix, N. J., with friends.

Mrs. Merritt Hunt, cafeteria manager, discovered the theft. The intruders had obtained entry by jimmying a door on the east side of the building and then taking the pass off the cafeteria door. The other rider, Elmer Lee Hall, 55, of 1207 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was thrown nearly 30 feet into the dry bed of a creek near the highway. The men were taken to the hospital in an ambulance where it was determined that both men had suffered severe lacerations and back injuries. Hall also sustained a fractured right arm. Their condition was termed as "good."

MENU SUGGESTIONS

COPENHAGEN—(NEA)— Producing and eating good food are the two major industries of Denmark, any Dane will tell you. I have been living high here on their mildly cured ham and bacon, eggs, the most delicate butter in the world, and fine cheeses (Danish blue and Samsoe are the cheeses we know best in the United States). And, of course, right through every day I've eaten Danish pastry, or as they call it "Wienna bread."

Even as we flew toward Copenhagen in a Scandinavian Airlines DC-6, 19,000 feet over the Atlantic ocean, the incredibly generous

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, Danish pastry, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Danish cervil or watercress soup with poached eggs, whole wheat or rye bread, butter or fortified margarine. Samsoe cheese, fresh fruit bowl, sweet crackers, tea, milk.
DINNER: Lamb stew with peas, onions, celery and carrots, parsley new potatoes, enriched soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, strawberry cream layer cake topped with whole fresh strawberries, coffee, milk.

Viking Cervil Soup
(Serves 4 to 5)
One and one-half quarts (slit cups) chicken or veal stock, 2 carrots, 1 leek, 1 small stalk celery, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup flour, 4 tablespoons finely minced cervil or watercress, 1 cup light cream.
Dice the carrots and slice the leek and celery in thin strips. Melt butter and simmer the vegetables a few minutes but do not brown. Slowly stir in the flour and then add a little stock at a time, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Simmer until the vegetables are tender but not mushy. Chop cervil or watercress very fine. Add to the stock with the cream. Do not boil or it will lose its delicate flavor and fresh green color.

Secretary is Again Before Senate Group

China's bases in Manchuria, a naval blockade was clamped on the China coast, and Chinese Nationalist troops were used against the Communists.

In previous testimony, Marshall had argued this program involved too big a risk that Russia might intervene and touch off a global war. He had questioned, too, whether the MacArthur program would end the war quickly. But Marshall once said that if he had absolute certainty the Russians would not come in, he would favor bombing Chinese bases in Manchuria.

At the outset of today's hearings, Senators Russell (D-Ga.) warned his colleagues against any "leak" of secret testimony from the closed door hearings. Senator Bridges (R-Vt.) took up with Marshall the question of the Russian strength in the Korean area.

Senators have heard estimates that approximately 500,000 Russian troops are available within a range of 200 miles from the Korean border.

Bridges pressed Marshall as to why the secretary of defense believes that the bombing of Red China's Manchurian bases — as proposed by MacArthur — might bring the Soviets into war.

Marshall mentioned the Soviet-Red Chinese mutual defense pact. He said that because of this there is doubt about the extent to which the Russians could permit "a satellite as important to them as the Chinese Communist regime (to) develop a feeling that they would have to go it alone."

"Those would be the main considerations involved in the opinion that it was dangerous to carry out that bombing you have referred to," he added.

At this point, senators cut out about 35 words of his testimony. As the hearings went into the new week, some members of the inquiry panel indicated they have picked up considerable optimism over the future in Korea.

The Changing Landscapes

RALPH G. ECKERT

Hello folks, in spite of the fact you may have thought we left the county when you never received an answer to your telephone calls, we are very much present but definitely in the field. Anyone wishing to contact us by telephone can do so by calling 3404, in Warren, between 0800 and 0830 A. M. any day Monday through Friday. Anyone visiting the office during the day will find a register, on the table, just inside the door. Please sign your name, list your address, telephone number and reason for visit. Within the next day or two either Jack Decker, SCS Aide, or I will contact you regarding your problem— or request. Maurice Bloom, Southwest Township farmer, has completed construction of a drainage terrace on his farm. He was assisted in the building by Clarence Carter, Veteran Agriculture Instructor, and an SCS technician.

John Boleratz, Columbus Potato farmer, completed building one terrace and plans on more at a later date. An outlet has previously been prepared and seeded in grass in order to take the water from the terrace and remove it from the field without causing erosion in so doing.

Willard Zerby, Yankeshush farmer, with the help of Jack Decker, of the SCS, staked out contour lines as guides for planting and seeding of permanent hay fields. Willard says some of his land is pretty steep and he gets no good seedling of Birdsfoot Trefoil established on it.

Mike Zurkan, farmer up Svede Hollow way, completed construction of a half mile pond on his farm. Mike has one of the very few ideal locations for a farm pond with all the conditions favorable. He was quick to take advantage of these conditions and include a pond when he prepared his conservation farm plan. He now enjoys a very nice pond which he plans to stock with largemouth bass and bluegills and use it for both fire protection and recreation.

See you all next week.

Titusville Shades Warren Thinclads By a 55-54 Score

The Titusville Rockets edged the Warren Dragons, 55 to 54, in an exceptionally close track meet at Titusville Friday afternoon. Despite the rain, which made the going a bit slippery, several good marks were tallied.

Titusville copped eight first places, but Warren kept close by counting both first and second places in three events.

Most thrilling race of the day was the mile run in which Krespan, of Warren, nosed out Clark of Titusville by two yards. The time was 5:15, which was excellent, considering the wet track.

Don Bird, of Titusville, broke his own record in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, one inch. This was the only new mark made.

Summary:

100-yd dash: Bird (T), 1st; Irvine (W), 2nd; Dillon (T), 3rd; 10.8 seconds.

1/4 mile run: Krespan (W), 1st; Clark (T), 2nd; Stohl (W), 3rd; 5:15.

Two-lap relay: Titusville (Bird, Dillon, Morrill, Oberman), 1st; 1:17.5.

440-yd run: Irvine (W), 1st; DeLeo (T), 2nd; Kerr (T), 3rd; 55.5.

880-yd run: Morley (W), 1st; Cramer (W), 2nd; Dullakas (T), 3rd; 2:3.8.

220-yd run: Oberman (T), 1st; Dillon (T), 2nd; Hegerty (W), 3rd; 24.6.

Four-lap relay: Warren (DeLeo, Carlson, Curtis, Irvine), 1st; 2:41.8.

Shotput: Shears (T), 1st; Patrick (W), 2nd; Elder (T), 3rd; 42 feet, 4 1/2 in.

Pole vault: Foley (W), 1st; Wagner (T), 2nd; McKanigle (T), 3rd; 10 ft., 6 in.

Discus: Walter (T), 1st; Low (T), 2nd; Foley (W), 3rd; 117 ft., 6 in.

High jump: Schlosser (T), 1st; McCullough (W), 2nd; Rowe (T), 3rd; 5 ft., 2 in.

Javelin: (T), 1st; Patrick (W), 2nd; Fisher (W), 3rd; 141 ft., 8 in.

Broad Jump: Bird (T), 1st; Thompson (W), 2nd; Hegerty (W), 3rd; 20 ft., 1 in.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

Terrific batting strength is one reason why New Castle has a 7-1 record today and undisputed possession of first place in the Middle Atlantic Baseball League.

The New Castle batsmen were never hotter than yesterday as they scored 17 runs in the fourth inning to start them on an easy 21-9 conquest of Butler. Available records indicate the 17-run stanza, in which 22 men batted, set a league record.

In other games, Erie's Bill Thompson hurled a three hit 6-0 shutout over Lockport and Niagara Falls trounced Youngstown 9-0.

Newly Famed Count Turf To Go After Belmont Triple

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For reasons best known to Jack J. Amiel and Sol Rutchick, Count Turf wasn't entered in The Preakness at Pimlico, May 19, not even as a supplementary.

That goes for the first four in the Kentucky Derby, as a matter of fact, the others being, in order of finish, Royal Mustang, Ruhe and Phil D.

It wasn't because Owner Amiel didn't consider Count Turf good enough, for the Derby winner is eligible for five stakes, everything Trainer Rutchick might care to have the bay colt tackle at Belmont Park's spring meeting.

He's nominated for the Swift at seven furlongs, May 16; the Withers Mile, May 26; the Roeben Handicap at six furlongs, June 6; the Peter Pan Handicap, June 9, and, of course, the $100,000 Belmont Stakes at a mile and a half, the true Derby distance, June 16.

No longer grossly neglected as he was at Churchill Downs, Count Turf, provided he remains sound, is to be sent after the fashionable Belmont Triple. This is composed of the Withers, the Belmont Stakes and the Lawrence Realization at a mile and five-eighths in the fall.

The Belmont Triple is vastly more demanding than the Triple Crown, which was never thought of until racing writers started writing about it in more recent years.

YOU don't even have to be a young old-timer to know that sore Sir Barton launched the Triple Crown vogue in 1919.

Yet eight horses have wrapped up the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, the others being Gallant Fox in 1930, Omaha in '35, War Admiral in '37, Whirlaway in '41, Count Fleet in '43, Assault in '46 and Citation in '48.

This spring will see the 76th running of the Withers and the 83rd edition of the Belmont Stakes, first run in 1867. The 59th galloping of the Lawrence Realization takes place in September.

These classics go way back there, brother.

Yet only two horses have wrapped them up—the immortal Man o' War in 1920 and Goddard Zev three years later.

Even unbeaten Colin didn't do it in 1908.

A number of horses have captured two legs, but only the two all three. Colin bagged two, for example, Fair Play, the sire of Man o' War, placing behind him on each occasion. Fair Play copped the Lawrence Realization.

RACING SEASON OPENS—The proprietors of the Dickey Ben Speedway at Starbrick, Ben White and Richard Morrison, decided because of the "soupy" condition of the track that Sunday's scheduled opening would be postponed, and announcement to that effect was made periodically over the local radio, but despite the efforts of the promoters to call off the races, a large crowd of spectators was on hand along with a dozen entries. After consultation with drivers and officials it was decided to stage an abbreviated program over the quarter mile track. Eight cars competed in the qualifying heats and the individual lap tries, and about as many competed in the one race that was staged, when the above picture was snapped as they came around the west turn all in a bunch. The mile-track was too soft for racing, but the crowd enjoyed the competition staged on the shorter oval. —Phil Coyle Photo

The SIREN of SILVER VALLEY

By PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 18

HE STIFFENED under her fury. Her voice was harsh, her eyes glittered like frosted ice and she spat the words between tight lips.

He said, "It was you, Diana. The thought of you being in danger drove every bit of sense out of my head. Darling, don't you realize that you mean more to me than all the range and cattle in the world?"

She listened with that implacable coldness that she could so easily assume when she was crossed, and he got to his feet. "I'm ready to quit if you want me to," he said quietly. "But if you have some faith in me left I'll still stand by you."

He looked steadily at her and slowly the rigid features relaxed, the chill went out of her eyes, the tight lips softened into their natural sweet bow. She sighed and lay back on the bed and when she spoke, her voice held just the proper tinge of apology. "Forgive me, darling; but I was overwrought and I just exploded. I didn't mean a bit of it and I'm awfully sorry. Sit down, dear."

She turned her head and lay for a moment gazing reflectively up at the ceiling. She reached her decision and turned once more to him. "Where are Walt and Ben now?"

"Their men took them back to their own spreads."

"Then I think you'd better leave them to me. Get a buggy and drive me out. Or, wait! Perhaps it would be better if you didn't go along. They don't like you very well." She smiled at him. "Somehow they have the crazy idea that I might be terribly interested in you. Isn't that ridiculous?"

He was holding her hand and her fingers tightened about his. "I'll see Sam Cooper and get him to drive me out. I'm sure I can win them over. We'll have twelve more men with us. With twelve more men I'd undertake to drive out the whole standing army!"

"Good!" She swung gracefully from the bed. "Run along, dear, and I'll hunt up Sam. Where can we find you?"

He told her where his men were camping and left her. He was his old confident self again.

DIANA went directly to the lawyer's office and when Sam had looked the door behind her she turned to him and raised her lips. "Aren't you going to kiss me?" she pouted.

"Sure." He kissed her, placed a chair for her and seated himself behind the desk. She told him swiftly and succinctly what had happened.

Sam scowled. "The fool! Didn't he realize that you were in no danger?"

"No. And I'm not so sure of it myself. Shag thinks I gave him a dirty deal; I don't think he'd be very nice to me."

He grinned sardonically. "Is it possible that you've met a man you can't twist around your finger?"

She shrugged. "I might if I put my mind to it. Let's skip Shag for the moment. Jeff is good and mad and all fired up with determination. He says he can still drive the Starrs out but would like to have more men. He was going to try to talk Walt and Ben into helping us; they were in the burning house and might have died. I suggested that he leave them to me."

Again Sam grinned. "Couldn't think of anything better myself. Appeal to each in turn without the other knowing about it. They're both laid up and won't meet on the battlefield. The two crews will report to Jeff and Jeff will have twelve more men. You want me to drive you out, I suppose?"

They got a buggy and drove out immediately, stopping first at the Lazy K. Cooper waited while Diana went inside. Walt Kirk was in his bed and his eyes brightened at sight of her. She seated herself beside his bed and took one of his "marled hands in both of hers. "You poor boy!" she purred. "I came out as soon as I heard what had happened. Those dreadful Starrs! They would have let you burn alive!"

"It wasn't the Starrs, honey; it was Shag Dolan."

Her eyes went wide. "And who do you suppose put Shag up to it? Why did the stampees come right after my men left the fence? No, dear, it was all part of the plan. Shag was to seize me and burn the buildings to take Jeff away. They would have let you burn and me—"

She shuddered slightly.

"I don't know what they'd have done to me."

"They wouldn't have dared to hurt you."

"You don't know how Shag hates me. He—he tried to make love to me and I sent him about his business."

"Why, the dirty polecat!" grated Walt.

"You mustn't excite yourself, darling. I shouldn't have told you that. But you see now that I won't be safe until I drive them out. I must have more men. Dear, since our understanding, I'm sure I can count on your help. You're certainly under no obligations to John Starr after what happened."

"You're sweet!" murmured Diana. She bent over and kissed him lightly, then got to her feet before his weakened arms could seize her. "Do get well quickly, won't you?"

Walt's eyes were shining. "You're danged tootin' I will!"

So in the course of a very little time, six armed men rode towards Jeff's camp, and Sam, and Diana set out across the valley for the 88 of Ben Dowd. And within an hour of their arrival, six 50 men, also heavily armed, set out to join the Double D forces, leaving Ben feeling much improved and eager to get well again so that he could lead a beautiful and blushing bride to the altar.

With twelve additional fighting men Jeff felt that he had a sufficient number to completely overwhelm the Starrs. He was eager to be up and at them; the attempt to seize Diana had smothered all thought of mercy. If Ruth Starr had not actually conceived the plan which had drawn him away from the fence, at least she had been a party to it.

Tombstone said, "If we're gonna string any more fence we'll have to get wire somewhere. Them critters sure made a mess of what we had."

"There'll be no more fence building," Jeff told them grimly. "Tomorrow morning we start at the Lazy K fence and commence our drive. With the men that we have we can push the whole herd straight up the valley and into the hills. And if they try to stop us we'll give 'em a taste of their own medicine."

HOT STOVE BASEBALL LEAGUE

Warren Chapter

ADULT MEMBERSHIP

Adult sponsoring memberships for the Hot Stove Baseball League are now being sold throughout the area by Hot Stove leaders. The memberships cost a minimum of $1.

The money raised from the sale of these memberships is used to help purchase bats, balls and other equipment for the boys. All of the leadership for the Hot Stove organization is on a volunteer basis, making it possible to turn all of the money received from the sale of individual sponsor memberships directly into making the baseball program better than ever. This year there will be at least 48 teams in operation in Warren, Vealestown, North Warren, Rogertown, Clarendon, Pleasant Township, Starbrick and Youngsville.

Many have asked how they can help in the program. Purchase of an adult membership makes you a part of the Hot Stove Program, and is a way in which all interested persons may help.

All Hot Stove leaders have these membership cards. But if you happened to be missed and would like to sign up, you may send a dollar (or more) and your name and address to Bob Moorhead, Sports Editor, Times-Mirror, and a membership card will be sent to you by return mail. All membership cards are numbered and each leader must turn in the corresponding numbered stubs with the purchasers' names and addresses to Hot Stove officers.

South was very versatile in the hand shown today. He was very enterprising during the bidding but very cautious in the play. It was a good combination.

West's opening club lead was taken by dummy's ace and a trump was returned at once. When South played the king of spades West cleverly played low.

This was a neat trap—except that South was too wise a bird to fall for it. If South continues trumps, West takes the ace and leads a third trump. Then there are only nine tricks—five trumps, three diamonds and a club.

South saw this possibility and switched to diamonds. He cashed the diamond king and led his remaining diamond towards dummy. West discarded a club (it would have done him no good to ruff), and dummy won with the ace.

Once again there were pitfalls to avoid. If declarer leads the Much Interest Is Shown by Residents In Open House Observance at the Y.M.C.A.

The Warren Y.M.C.A.'s open house observance this year had added significance, in that the National Y.M.C.A. is celebrating its 100th year of service to men and boys in these United States.

Senior, boys' and physical departments put into action some portions of their programs in order that friends and members might see and understand typical programs that are offered.

On Friday evening, following the swimming meet, a large crowd of boys' department members and friends were entertained with a half-length feature movie, typical of the Friday-Nights. This department was open all evening for games, with many adults visiting it and other departments.

The Hobby Show award was won by Roy Reynolds, featuring his collection of travel folders. Second prize went to David Honhart for his model of a U. S. Army jet fighter plane, and third to Charles Confer, who had many designs in paper work.

Saturday morning, many boys brought in visitors for swimming and gym classes, both Cadets and Juniors, and group games were enjoyed in the gym under the direction of Bill Mulvey, followed by a swim in the pool.

MARINE PROMOTIONS

William J. Paris, left, and Martin T. Sampson have climaxed their training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., with promotions to the rank of private first class. The former, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Paris, 228 Central avenue, also won the coveted badge of Marine Sharpshooter when he fired a 210 during his weapons training. Marine Paris enlisted on February 21, 1951, and after a 10-day leave at home will be given further assignment. Marine Sampson, son of Marine T. Sampson, 11 Monroe street, earned the silver badge of Marine Marksman during his training. Formerly employed by Check Brothers, he also enlisted in February, 1951. He will, likewise, have 10 days' leave at home before his transfer and assignment. Another local Marine, Pfc. Paul Constable, son of Leonard Constable, 15 Glade avenue, has completed his boot training with promotion to his present rank and earned his Marksman's silver badge. He was employed by Ralph Theodore before his enlistment in February and will have a new assignment as soon as his leave terminates.

Plan Services For Columbus Suicide Tuesday Morning

Services in memory of Charles A. Page, 41, proprietor of the Columbus Inn, who died early Saturday of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, will be held at the Bracken-Keating Funeral Home in Corry Tuesday morning at ten o'clock.

The body of Mr. Page, with the top of the head blown away as a result of a wound inflicted by a 30-30 Winchester rifle, was found by his wife about seven o'clock Saturday morning, when she became alarmed over the fact he was not in bed where he had been under the care of a physician for several days.

Coroner Ed Lowrey, who investigated along with Pvt. Walter Krupa of the Corry State Police barracks and Sheriff L. E. Linder of Warren, issued a certificate of death by suicide.

Authorities said Page had been despondent and in ill health for the past week.

They theorized that he had gotten up during the night and left the family apartment on the second floor of the tavern building. On the way to the bar he obtained a 30-30 calibre Winchester rifle with which he took his life.

Proprietor of the licensed establishment since November of 1948, Page had moved there from Detroit where he was born August 13, 1909. Since that time he had made his home at Columbus with his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Page, and two children, Gail and Gary, who survive.

In addition, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hattie Cook, one sister, Mrs. Gene Conrad, and one brother, James Southway, all of Detroit.
